DAVIDSON IS INNOCENT, SAID KELLEY'S AFFIDAVIT

Alleged Confession of Man Convicted Jointly With D. M. Davidson for Murder of W. C. Sellars.

reports are true, James M. Kelley, who with D. M. Davidson, was convicted at a special term of the circuit court in Palatka for the murder of Special Agent W. C. Sellars of the Atlantic Coast Line at High Springs, and sentenced to life-imprisonment at hard labor, has made a clean confession to the authorities in the nature of an affidavit, in which it is alleged completely exonerates Davidson, declaring that Davidson had nothing to do with the murder of Sellars, that (Davidson) knew absolutely nothing about the crime, and that he (Kelley) alone was responsible for the man's death.

This is the rumor which has reached here, and the information that Kelley made this affidavit comes from a reliable source.

It will be remembered that the defendants applied for a change of venue from Alachua to Putnam county, on the ground that they did not believe they could secure a fair trial there. This request was granted, and a special term of the circuit court was held for Putnam county, being held at Palatka in June. The jury in Putnam county was secured with little difficulty and the trial proceeded, lasting one week.

Kelley and Davidson were arraigned and tried jointly for this offence, and many witnesses were examined, both for the State and defense, resulting finally in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation of the mercy of the court.

Davidson Exonerated in Court.

It will also be remembered that, just prior to being sentenced, Kelley created a mild sensation in the court room by declaring that Davidson was innocent of the crime. When commanded to rise, both stood up. When asked by the court if he had anything to say why the sentence of the law should not be passed upon him, Kelley unhesitatingly said: "As for myself, I have nothing to say; but as for D. M. Davidson, I will say truthfully that he is as innocent as any man within the hearing of my voice."

But this did not affect the verdict of the jury, and both men were sentenced in accordance with the verdict.

Immediately after the sentence was pronounced, Attorney J. N. Stripling

CONFEDERATE VETS. IN ANNUAL REUNION

LIVE OAK, Oct. 21.—Scores of Confederate veterans from various sections of Florida, together with their wives, daughters and sons, are here in attendance upon a two-days' session of the nineteenth annual reunion of the Florida Division of the United Confederate Veterans. Major-General Robert J. Magill presided at the opening session at which cordial addresses of greeting were delivered. The town is profusely decorated in honor of the visitors and splendid entertainment has been provided for them.

SPED PRISONER TO JAIL IN AUTOMOBILE.

PENSACOLA, Oct. 21.—Only quick work on the part of two deputies prevented the lynching yesterday morning of Robert Stewart, a negro who had cut the throat of Walter Hall, a white boy, at Century, a small town ten miles north of here.

The deputies had arrested their man and were taking him to the railroad station. A mob of men were seen coming for the negro, and the deputies at once pushed him into an automobile, into which they clambered, and started the machine at full speed for Pensacola. They kept up a high speed until they reached the Escambia county jail.

Young Hall was set upon by the negro for some unknown cause.

CALF WITH TWO HEADS LATEST AT TALLAHASSEE.

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 21.—"Have you seen the two-headed calf?" is the salutation taking the place this morning of the usual "Hello!" greeting between friends and acquaintances in Tallahassee, and the back yard of Martin Sauls of Magnolia Heights, a suburb of the city, is the mecca of a continuous stream of people going out to see the wonder.

The calf was born Tuesday and is a strong, healthy specimen, perfectly formed, except that it has two heads, each perfectly equipped with all the features and belongings of a normal animal. It has, however, only one bleat, but that issues impartially from either mouth.

for the defense filed notice of motion for a new trial, which was denied, after which the case was taken to the supreme court, where it now rests. In the meantime both men have been confined in the Putnam county jail.

A Case of Romance.

This case has been full of romance and sensation from beginning to the present time. After the men had been convicted and sentenced for life, Davidson was married in prison to a girl who came all the way from Waycross, and who manifested sufficient confidence in his innocence, even at that late hour, to give him her hand and heart, and the ceremony was performed with nothing but the grimness of a dark prison cell, the jail officials, and a few fellow-prisoners surrounding them.

It is now a difficult problem to determine just what effect this alleged affidavit of Kelley will have upon the case. He declares, as he declared in the court room, that Davidson is innocent, and naturally it is not the will of law and justice to punish an innocent man. It may result in the granting of a new severance trial, in which event Kelley's statement will no doubt have great weight upon a jury.

It is said that Kelley stated to Sheriff R. Leo Kennerly of Putnam county that Sellars was his eighth victim.

SKIRMISH FOR NOMINATION OF U. D. C. OFFICERS

Enthusiasm Aroused When President Told Story of Replacing of Davis' Name on Bridge.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 21.—Politics crept into yesterday's session of the annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, when the preliminary skirmish for prospective new general officers began. A divergence of views developed when Mrs. L. W. Kline, chairman of the rules committee, submitted a rule providing for the election by ballot of all general officers, where there is more than one candidate for the office.

The advocates of the secret ballot were defeated, and the election will be by viva voce vote on the call by States. Although the general election will not be held until Friday, the last day of the convention, efforts are being made to prepare the slate.

Among those mentioned for president-general are Mrs. Virginia McSherry of West Virginia, Mrs. John P. Hickman of Tennessee and Mrs. J. W. Falson of North Carolina. The latter is regarded as a very strong possibility.

Reports of the general officers were submitted yesterday, the report of President-General Stone being the more important. Several amendments to the bylaws were made, one providing that the office of registrar-general be permanent, in Richmond, Va., because the register containing the records is permanently kept in the Confederate museum at that place. Another change was made, giving the State of Illinois three votes instead of two in convention, thus making the full voting strength of the convention 1,304.

At the Rice Hotel, the headquarters of the convention, a meeting of the Arlington Monument Association was held. The reports submitted showed nearly $15,000 in the hands of the association which is charged with the building of the monument to the Confederate dead on Shiloh battlefield.

A note of sorrow was injected into the convention's session when a telegram was read announcing the sudden death at Louisville, Ky., of Mrs. Basil W. Duke, one of the most efficient workers of the organization. When the telegram was read, the members stood with bowed heads in token of their sorrow.

Great enthusiasm was aroused when the president-general told the story of a personal visit to President Roosevelt and the plea made in the name of the Daughters of the Confederacy that caused the name of Jefferson Davis to be restored to the Cabin John bridge.

Memorial services for members who had died during the year were held yesterday.

The question of endorsing a model for a monument for the statue to the women of the South will come up during the session.

New York and Chicago to Have New Trunk Line

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A new trunk line from New York to Chicago under the joint influence of the New York Central and Reading interests has come into being under the very eye of the Pennsylvania railroad, and now offers substantial prospects of competition with the Pennsylvania over a low-grade route even shorter than the main line of the Keystone system through Pittsburgh. A connection for the Vanderbilt roads, with Philadelphia is also a part of the program, and completes this prospective invasion of the territory long considered sacred to the through business of the Pennsylvania road.

The new line found its existence when the first train was run very recently over the Jamestown, Franklin

& Clearfield railroad from Williamsport, where the Reading railroad finds its terminus in the Pennsylvania oil regions, through Franklin, in the very heart of the oil country, to Ashtabula, on the line of the Lake Shore road in Ohio, between Cleveland and the Pennsylvania border. The Lake Shore contributes the connection into Chicago, and the Reading into New York and Pennsylvania. The connecting road from Ashtabula to Franklin is an old branch of the Lake Shore which has long handled traffic originating at Franklin and Oil City. From Franklin to Clearfield, a distance of 105 miles, it is a case of new construction, and at Clearfield an existing branch of the New York Central known as

Immigration and Naturalization Laws Need Attention

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—There is every indication that Congress will be called upon next winter to deal with the question of immigration and naturalization. Both questions are involved. And the vigorous enforcement of the law governing naturalization in recent years has increased the work of the Federal courts to such an extent that it has become necessary to appeal to Congress to clear up the existing doubts.

It is learned from an authoritative source that the strict enforcement of the law governing naturalization is not effective as an exclusion act against undesirable citizens. It was in 1875 that Congress made an amendment to the naturalization law that in effect excluded from the citizenship all aliens not "free white persons," and conferred citizenship on "aliens of African nativity and to persons of African descent." And this amendment was retained in the various acts of Congress of late years relating to immigration and naturalization.

The amendment of 1875 has been construed to the very letter by the bureau of naturalization officers of that important department, and has not been lax in enforcement.

33,601 Men Now Employed On The Big Panama Canal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The big Panama ditch is half way toward completion, according to the report of Chief Engineer Goethals to the Canal Commission.

It is predicted that the digging from now on will be easier, as the force of workmen is now thoroughly organized. It is no longer a matter of merely taking out hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of earth every day. While some of the men are cutting the gash in Culebra others are building dams, and still others have begun the preliminary work for the big locks. Before another month the three branches of canal work will be at the zenith of activity.

The force now employed on the canal is the largest since the work began. It aggregates 33,601 men. Of these 25,519 are digging the canal or looking after those who are doing the digging.

The death rate is now 14.30 per thousand, as compared with 51.65 in 1906. The death rate among the employes in September was only 10.26 per thousand. The typhoid rate is less than half that of Pennsylvania and probably less than it is for the entire United States.

THE CITY COUNCIL CANVASSED VOTE

CHAS. M. DELL DECLARED WINNER IN MARSHAL CONTEST.

Bond Submitted and Approved, and Marshal Dell Will Assume Duties
Today—Owens on Night Force.

The City Council convened in adjourned session at the council chambers Thursday night, the meeting being held for the purpose of canvassing and verifying the returns of the special election for marshal on Tuesday, at which Chas. M. Dell was the successful candidate, according to the returns of the election inspectors.

The returns were found correct, and were accepted and approved, after which Marshal-Elect Dell filed his bond of $500 for the faithful discharge of his duties, and Marshal Dell will go on duty today, as soon as he is administered the oath of office by Mayor Davis.

Acting Marshal Harry Owens, who was appointed to fill the position on account of the resignation of Marshal Arnow until an election could be held, and who has performed his work faithfully, will return to his position as night officer, and it may be said that no more competent a man could be secured for this responsible position.

Mr. Owens was serving the people efficiently as night officer at the time he was appointed marshal by the mayor, and at the election Tuesday was a candidate for the position of marshal; but as has been said before, this was a good-natured fight among friends, and nobody feels bad over the matter.

Mr. Dell served the county faithfully and efficiently as street supervisor, and it goes without saying that he will perform the duties of marshal as he said he would—with fairness and impartiality.

Mr. Owens was faithful, both as night officer and as acting marshal, and there is no doubt but that he will resume his former duties with probably better efficiency than before, because he has enjoyed the experience of duties as a marshal.

While the force is small, it may be said that Gainesville will enjoy the most competent police protection of any city in the State for the money expended.

This Was Some Time.

Dr. J. F. McKinstry, Jr., received a "hurry call" to Perry on professional business Thursday, and the wire requested him to report at the earliest possible moment.

The most direct and quickest route at the hour the message was received was via Newberry, and Elmer McCreary tendered the Doctor a ride to that point in his Buick automobile, where he could catch a train. The Doctor availed himself of the invitation, and in one hour and ten minutes he was waiting at the station in Newberry for the train, with twenty-eight minutes to spare. On his return Mr. McCreary made the trip from Newberry to this city in fifty minutes, but would have made better time had it not been for the blinding rain he was compelled to face, which also had a tendency to make the roads very bad.

THE NEWS FROM WALDO.

Approaching Marriage Announced.
Property Changes Hands—Notes.

WALDO, Oct. 21.—The Williams block is being rushed by a large force of hands under Contractor Pope, and Waldo will soon have another mercantile business conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williams, who have heretofore done business here for many years.

Chris. Neal, who lives a few miles away, and Miss Nora Geiger will soon leave for Miami to be under a specialist for some months, as both are in declining health.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Godbey and Mr. Timmons of Jacksonville is announced to take place soon. This accomplished gentleman spent the past winter here and had employment in Mr. T. K. Godbey's extensive plant-shipping business.

Conductor Alvarez is making good use of his irrigation outfit this dry weather. Steam is used to pump the water into an elevated tank from which it is conveyed through pipes.

Mrs. Newberry, the centenarian, has been quite ill for some weeks. Mrs. Newberry, a daughter-in-law of Jonesville, this county, was here to see her a few days ago. It was a son of the latter who was killed by Owen.

Mrs. D. L. Branning is spending a few days with her daughters, Mrs. J. W. Morgan and Mrs. Lalla R. Chace, at Starke, also with her brother, Waterman Budington, and sister, Mrs. Emma Richard.

The excessive drouth has greatly hindered fall gardening and cut short the sweet potato crop, which was already damaged by the previous rainy weather.

Marshal Miller has advertised hogs for sale which he has in the pound. The acorns of our shade oaks are temptation to them to come in from the surrounding country.

As one result of the educational rally the society for school improvement was reorganized and Mrs. T. M. Cauthen was elected president, and Miss Daisy Hicks secretary.

A. J. Bowen has sold his farm near Millican's still to J. N. Strickland, who has lived on the place the past year and made a fine crop of corn and some cotton, besides other products, and keeps a wood rack.

W. M. Pugh has advertised the loss of a twenty-dollar bill, offering five dollars reward.

Mayor Doane has been summoned as a juror in the fall term of circuit court.

The Turner store has met another head flaw. Collector Dickinson came over and closed it till the first of November to be sold by auction to pay the taxes of last year and this.

Messrs. Neal, Triest, Harvey, Kennard and Sparkman went out to Newnan's lake to join Mr. McLenna there in a fishing trip.

Mrs. Fletcher has closed out her household goods and removed to Atlanta since the death of her husband.

NEW YORK AND CHICAGO

TO HAVE NEW TRUNK LINE

the Beech Creek railroad reaches Williamsport.

The line thus connected offers a distance of but 890 miles from Chicago to New York, and 812 miles from Chicago to Philadelphia, as against 978 miles from Chicago to New York over the Lake Shore and New York Central, 927 miles over the Michigan Central and the New York Central, and 907 miles over the Pennsylvania. The distance from Chicago to Philadelphia over the new route is 816 miles, so that it gives the shortest connection of any road between Chicago and either New York or Philadelphia. It will also have a distinct advantage in grade, offering a maximum of only thirty-seven feet to a mile, as against fifty-six feet on the Pennsylvania lines.

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

BALES COTTON

FARMERS' UNION DISPOSES OF
COTTON AT MODERATE PRICE.

Four Cents a Pound, Regardless of Quality, Was the Price Paid by Savannah Firm.

One of the largest and most important cotton sales recorded in Alachua for the season transpired at Alachua two or three days when the Farmers' Union sold to Savannah parties about four hundred bales of the fleecy staple at a flat price of 24 cents a pound.

With an average weight of 390 pounds to the bale, it will readily be seen that this sale aggregated a considerable sum—probably $38,000—which was paid promptly by the buyers, and which naturally meant a big profit for the grower and the merchant, and the result is that the commercial interests of Alachua have been lively since the sale was consummated.

The growers who hold membership in the Farmers' Union have been making their cotton, through an understanding and agreement, for better prices, and they were finally rewarded. There were three bidders from Savannah market, and for a while the bidding was lively, but the staple was finally knocked down in a "lump" at 24 cents, regardless of quality.

It was at first agreed to sell five hundred bales, but several of the growers are said to have "kicked out" on account of price, hence the sale amounted to about one hundred bales short.

While there have been several sales of cotton in Alachua this season, this was the first sale by members of the Farmers' Union, and the result of such immense proportions, which is probably the most important of the season in the Sea Island belt.

THE MOTHERS' MEETING.

An interesting Gathering of Women at Home of Mrs. Deland.

The Mothers' Meeting held at the pleasant home of Mrs. Deland was another of the many pleasant and interesting meetings held by these earnest W. C. T. U. mothers who are trying hard to make the future of the coming generation favorable to right living by removing from their pathway the awful evil that wrecks so many lives.

The program was in charge of Mrs. J. E. Futch, and was both interesting and helpful, as it took up the broad subject of "The Child in the Home and the School; What Shall We Do With Him?"

The meeting was opened with a hymn sung by all present. Mrs. Futch then read the third chapter of Colossians, followed with a prayer by Mrs. Bridges; after which the following program was carried out:

Music—Piano duet by Mrs. Ruby Dayton and Bernice Deland.

Paper prepared by Mrs. Evans, "The Child in the Home and What Shall We Do With Him?" This is a subject of vital interest, for it is in the home where they are to get their first impressions whether for good or ill. Among some of the many good thoughts she advanced were: First, try to know the nature and temperament of your children, and work accordingly. Strive to teach your children to love the best in literature and art. To have a love for books of travel or lives of the good and great, both of men and women. Try to find out your child's ambition when he is in his teens. Make your own life such that it will bare the limelight of your child's sharp eyes.

Vocal duet, "Somebody's Praying for You"—Misses Natalie Kennebrew and Bernice Deland.

Paper, by Mrs. Dr. Spencer, "The Child in the School." She spoke of the benefit the kindergarten was to the little ones, and as they got older and entered the public school how necessary it was that they have well-lighted and ventilated school rooms if they do good work, also that many times some physical defect kept the child from doing its best.

Piano solo, Miss Aloise Douglass.

Mrs. Padgett read a very fine article entitled, "The Mother and the Public School," showing how needful it is that the mother interest herself in knowing that the school is both a comfortable and sanitary place, advising that mothers have a place on the school board.

Mrs. O. B. Bailey read a paper on the very important subject, "Tact in the Home." How much good a tactful mother can accomplish, how many unpleasantnesses avert. Tact can indeed do wonders in keeping children where you want them.

Piano duet—Little Misses Maurine and Gladys Gracy.

At the close of the program Mrs. L. L. Sandborn, president of the W. C. T. U., gave some encouraging words to the union by telling some facts she had gleaned about the work while North this summer, among which she told of one of the biggest breweries in Milwaukee that used to run every day and night of the week, now only runs three days and nights; also of large sheds filled with fixtures of saloons gone out of commission, and this in one of our cities where it is noted for its breweries.

Meedames Deland, A. W. Taylor and Padgett were on committee for refreshments, and served cakes and lemonade, which were refreshing and made the visiting part of the meeting more sociable, as it always does.

We cordially invite all who feel one particle of interest in the good of our coming generation to come to our meetings.

The Best Food for Workers.

The best food for those who work with hand or brain is never high priced.

The best example of this is found in Quaker Oats. It stands at the top among foods that supply nourishment and vigor, without taxing the digestion, and yet it is the least expensive food one can eat.

This great food value and low cost make it an ideal food for families who want to get the greatest good from what they eat.

Laborers, factory or farm hands, fed plentifully on Quaker Oats will work better and with less fatigue than if fed on almost any other kind of food. All of these facts were proved and very interesting information about human foods were gathered by Professor Fisher of Yale University in 1908. You'll find Quaker Oats in regular size packages, and hermetically sealed tins; the latter is best for hot climates.

A Cottolene Home Is a Healthy Home

Food Purity is of great importance in every well-regulated home.

The woman who fries or shortens her family's food with lard is doing so because she is unaware of the ill effects which may come of it. Lard-cooked food never has been, never can be, as healthful as food cooked with Cottolene. The very sources of the products will teach you this.

Lard is made from hog fat, and what assurance have you that the animal is free from infection, or disease germs? On the other hand, Cottolene comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South, and is made from the purest, refined cottonseed oil, which physicians to-day recommend as being fully as healthful as olive oil.

Cottolene is clean, pure, and makes digestible, nourishing food. It has been recommended by physicians generally for the building up of patients whose bodies contain tuberculosis germs. Can you imagine hog lard being recommended for such a purpose?

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

ALPHA DELTA TAU.

History of Club of Young Ladies—Officers Elected for Term.

Realizing the pleasures and benefits derived from club life, several of Gainesville's most popular young ladies organized a local fraternity to be known as Alpha Chapter of Alpha Delta Tau. It was organized in October, 1908, with eight charter members—Misses Pearl Colson, Alma Fennell, Marion Futch, Irene McCreary, Belle Sadler, Leonora Vidal, Louise Walker, and Pearl Whetstone.

The meetings were held the first and third Wednesdays in every month at their club room, 303 E. Liberty street.

In February three new members were initiated into the secrets of the organization—Misses Annie Cannon, Mary Medlin, and Charlotte Steckert.

The Alpha Delta Taus were the hostesses at several delightful social functions. During the winter months the meetings were both interesting and profitable, but when summer came the business was dispensed with and the club enjoyed social meetings with different ones of its members.

On October 6, 1909, the first regular business meeting for the season was held at the club room. On last Wednesday the first annual election of officers was held. Miss Whetstone was made president for the ensuing term, Miss Irene McCreary vice-president, Miss Belle Sadler secretary, and Miss Mary Medlin treasurer.

The club has the honor of having as honorary members Mrs. H. H. McCreary, Mrs. Jack Halle and Mrs. J. W. Walker.

The meetings are held regularly in the club room and much will be done for the benefit of Alpha Delta Tau.

WILSON COMPANY'S OPENING.

This Event Proved Very Popular and Profitable to the Ladies.

The opening display of the new fall styles at the big Wilson store was a source of admiration and delight to hundreds of women, not only in Gainesville, but throughout the county, who thronged the store from early morning until closing time each day.

The lower floor was filled with the very latest in new dress goods and silks, trimmed to match, fine cotton goods, notions, in fact everything to be found in a first-class dry goods store, while the second floor was devoted to millinery and ready-to-wear goods, the display overflowing with beautiful creations of the latest designs, among them being the beautiful evening capes, fine dresses and beautiful tailor-made suits and hats that were a revelation for style and workmanship. There was no uniformity of style, but a distinctiveness that can be found in few stores.

It is the aim of the Wilson Company to keep only the highest-class goods, but at popular prices, and buyers can always find New York styles at Gainesville prices.

Soul-affinity Earle says that he doesn't like this country. Considering who and what he is that is one of the best compliments that can be paid to the morality and intelligence of its people.

Those sentimental and ill advised German girls who wanted to marry ignorant and semi-barbarous African chiefs and princes are in no position to deride American girls, who hanker after Chinese husbands.

Every man should have a threefold ambition—that of making a real success of his life, of advancing the well-being of the place in which he lives, and the cheerful performance of his duties as a citizen of his country.

England has just launched another dreadnaught which is said to be "the best ever." Germany will probably respond with another ship at the earliest possible moment. In the meantime the people foot the bills and stagger under the increased taxation.

If the people who would "sit and sing themselves away to everlasting bliss" would only have as strong a wish to remain here and put a little more everyday bliss into the lives of others, their own chance of future as well as present bliss would be increased a thousandfold.

The fall run of mackerel along the Nova Scotia coast is the greatest in years and the fishermen are reaping a harvest. It is estimated that within the past few days 300,000 fish have been taken. The mackerel are all very large. About 15,000 fish have been shipped in ice to Boston from Halifax.

Some months ago New York prepared for the forest fires which annually follow the appearance of fall and gunners by establishing lookout stations, with telephone connection, on several peaks in the Adirondacks. New Hampshire now follows suit, with slight variation, in her "fire control" stations on Kearsage, Croydon and Rosebrook mountains.

A gentleman who lives in a concrete house at Pablo Beach describes the feeling of security his family enjoyed during the recent storm as amounting almost to luxury. No matter how hard the wind blew, there was not a tremor noticeable in the house. He has found the house cooler than any other construction during the warm weather, and warmer since it has turned cool.—Times-Union Short Talks.

At a factory at Murrysburg, Pa., erected there by Pittsburg capitalists to test the value of a process for the manufacture of sugar, paper pulp and denatured alcohol from Indian corn, sugar equal to that made from Southern cane, and the best grades of book and printing paper are being produced at about one-half the present cost. The results, if they be sustained in practical experience, are revolutionary and mean that in the near future a large part of the $250,000,000 now being paid out yearly in the United States for foreign sugar and paper stuff will be kept at home.

THE COUNTRY WOMAN'S CAREER.

Housework, instead of drudgery, is a beautiful science capable of development into art. She whose mind is alert to learn the best ways of caring for house and premises, to preserve the family health, and who studies the food problem that her table may offer the variety to provide for growth and repair, understanding that the body, being so largely dependent on food, may be strong and vigorous, or weak and ailing according to the food and its preparation, is filling a career surpassed only by the ability to mentally and morally train her family aright.

It is a beautiful thing to write a book, to sing a song or paint a picture, but it is more beautiful, more helpful and far-reaching to give to the world a family possessing bright, discriminating minds in sound, healthy bodies, whose moral perceptions will keep them on the side of right and justice, and whose Christian training will urge them to helpful deeds. This is a career open to every woman.

One beautiful home in a neighborhood will awaken emulation, resulting in the improvement of each home's surroundings. One church yard and school made attractive in a county will be an impetus to all others, and all these things will strengthen the love of country life and keep more of our best young people on the farm.

What more fruitful career than this can be desired?—Mrs. C. S. Everts, in Raleigh (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

Judge W. S. Bullock returned yesterday from Tavares, where he held court. He said from the size of the docket he thought it would take two weeks to try all the cases. There were thirteen cases tried. Every witness summoned was on hand, with all the attorneys in the cases. Every accused was convicted, and the docket cleared. It so impressed the Judge that he will commemorate the unusual proceedings by tabulating the event and hang same up in every court room in his circuit, so that other may do likewise.—Ocala Star. When, oh when, will The Sun be able to record such a condition of the docket of the court in Alachua county? "Every witness summoned was on hand with all the attorneys in the cases." Wouldn't that be a pleasing announcement for you to be able to make, Judge Wills? But we fear it will not be during your time as judge, unless you "put the screws" to the lawyers and witnesses.

Trespassing upon railway tracks has cost the lives of 47,416 persons in the United States in ten years. This is the form of accident in which, mileage considered, American railroads compare most unfavorably with those of England, where such trespass is prevented. The Pennsylvania railroad, in undertaking a campaign to prevent trespass, is meeting with opposition in rural communities. Pomona Grange of Blair county, Pa., protests that the railroad in driving tramps from its property drives them upon the farms and farm roads, "where they are robbing, committing murder and destroying property by fire."

An editor in Germany who criticized the business methods of the Standard Oil in that country has been challenged to fight a duel by the company's agent. Very wisely the editor declined on the ground that whoever might be victor in a duel the merits of the case would not be effected. In this country Standard Oil agents are not so bloodthirsty as their German confrere. They are supposed to use quieter, subtle and more effective ways of stifling criticism.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. The East Coast Homeseeker gives a striking illustration of the economy of spending money to build hard roads, taking Dade county as an example: "Perhaps the best illustration of what hard-surface roads will do for a new section of the country is Dade county," it says. "One of the first moves made by the Fort Dallas Land Company, under the direction of Mr. J. E. Ingraham, after the city of Miami was laid out, was to pave several of the streets with Miami rock, giving Miami at that time the best and most durable hard-surface streets in the State. This created a great enthusiasm among the new settlers who had cast their lot in this southern portion. Thirteen years ago there was not a foot of hard-surface road in the county, yet today the whole county is covered with a network of hard-surface roads equal in every way to city pavements, and each year there is a marked increase in the mileage of these roads. The result of this movement has been the settling up of the county with a thrifty, energetic, pushing class of farmers and fruit growers. Hard-surface roads have been largely the reason for the rapid development of the county."

A specialist in cotton estimates the coming year's takings as compared with last year's as follows: Exports 7,500,000 bales, against 8,566,000 bales last year; American mills 4,750,000 bales, against 5,300,000 last year. Total, 12,250,000 bales, against 13,866,000 last year. Assuming that this season's crop may contribute during the commercial year 11,550,000 bales out of the 12,250,000 estimated, there would remain 750,000 bales to come from the reserve that may be held in the cotton belt. Steadily advancing prices have probably cleared up most of this cotton.

Why is it that one town stagnates and is lifeless while another nearby and with no natural advantages of position goes steadily ahead increasing in population and prosperity? The causes are not hard to find. The first town is killed by selfishness, lack of enterprise and co-operation, jealousies and factional feeling. The other progresses because of civic pride and loyalty. Its citizens are enterprising and far-seeing, and work together with energy and harmony. Such a spirit will assure prosperity to any town.

THEY GROW HAIR

Certain Ingredients If Properly Combined, Stimulate Human Hair Growth.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Beta-naphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Philocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair, providing of course there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want everyone troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold in Gainesville only at our store—The Rexall Store, J. W. McCollum & Co.

OPENING A BIG SUCCESS.

Big Hyde Store Thronged With Women on the Opening Day.

The first, or opening day, of the fall showing of the Hyde Co., which occurred Thursday, was an event of much interest in Gainesville, as the women thronged the store from early morning until closing time searching for bargains, and viewing the magnificent display at this store.

There was much to interest the ladies upon this occasion, and they drank in the pretty things on display with the enthusiasm of a small boy taking in the sights of a menagerie—only it was a different kind of an enthusiasm. Down stairs there was plenty of fine things in dry goods—dress goods, silks, cotton goods, notions, etc., while on the second floor a feast of good things was in store for those who attended the opening.

Among the most noticeable of the many handsome things on display in the millinery department was an automobile bonnet, something of the very latest. This bonnet was of chamois skin, trimmed with black velvet and wings, and was admired by every lady visiting the place, whether interested in automobiles or not. Another great attraction was a large black velvet Neapolitan, which was faced with gold and trimmed with a gorgeous willow plume. In fact, there were many creations new and unique, all of which commanded the attention of those who attended this grand opening.

The opening will continue today and tomorrow, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

SUFFERING ENDED.

J. W. McCollum & Co. Sell the Remedy That Cured Stomach Trouble of 14 Years.

And best of all they guarantee it to cure you or money back. Read this:

"I have been a great sufferer for 14 years; everything I ate gave me heartburns. I have never been able to get anything that would give me any relief until a friend of mine insisted on my taking Mi-na. I took a 50-cent box and I believe I am entirely well."—F. M. Bryant, Newnan, Ga., June 5th.

Mi-na is not a nostrum; it is the prescription of a celebrated physician who is a specialist in stomach diseases.

One clever woman calls Mi-na the Sunshine Prescription because it changed her from a miserable, nervous dyspeptic into a bright, healthy, happy woman in a few weeks.

These little Mi-na tablets are surely wonder workers. They absolutely cure indigestion whether acute or chronic.

They stop belching, gas in stomach, and heaviness, in a few minutes. Distress after eating vanishes as if by magic when one or two little Mi-na tablets are swallowed.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake If You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Gainesville residents demand further proof than that contained in the following testimonial?

Oscar Osterman, of Starke, Fla., says: "I give Doan's Kidney Pills my highest recommendation as they proved of more benefit to me than any other remedy I had previously used. I suffered from kidney trouble for some time. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I was forced to arise from six to eight times during the night. I also had backache and was bothered by a pain through my loins. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon helped me. By the time I had taken the contents of two boxes, the backaches and pains entirely disappeared and the passages of the kidney secretions soon became regular. I now feel fifty per cent better than before in a long time."

Even the kitchen can boast its martyrs. You have proved that the fanaticism of honor can exist in the kitchen as well as in the camp, and that the spit and the saucepan have also their Catos and their Deciiuses."

FRAUD BY TELEGRAPH

Bold Swindles Perpetrated by Use of the Wire.

THE WAY A BANK WAS FOOLED

A Lot of Nerve and a Little Telegram That Was Properly Delivered by One of the Company's Messenger Boys Made a Winning Combination.

Ninety-nine men out of a hundred will accept as gospel truth the contents of a telegram when it comes from the hands of a messenger boy. They buy and sell, pay out large sums of money, start on long journeys and do countless other things upon the suggestion of the little yellow or white paper slips with their condensed messages without in the least questioning their authenticity. This is an interesting fact, upon which hinges an enormous amount of the country's business, and it is also a fact upon which hinge some of the cleverest and boldest frauds in criminal records.

A lot of nerve and a little telegram was a combination that made possible a smooth swindle on a Des Moines bank. A well dressed man, apparently a business man of large affairs, called at the paying teller's window with a draft or check on an Omaha bank and asked if the Omaha bank had telegraphed notice that the draft was good. He got "no" for an answer and then informed the teller that such a telegram might be expected at any moment. Soon afterward the telegram arrived, delivered by a messenger boy, appearing to have come from the Omaha bank and authorizing the Des Moines bank to pay the draft. When the stranger appeared again he was given the $500. When the Des Moines bank people took up the matter by wire with the Omaha bank it found that the latter institution had not sent the telegram, and then it was discovered that the whole transaction was a fraud.

But how could the swindlers send a telegram from Omaha bearing the bank's name? They did it in this manner: An accomplice of the Des Moines man stepped to a telephone booth in Omaha and called the telegraph office. "This is the — bank," he said. "Send a messenger at once to get a telegram for Des Moines." Then this accomplice hurried to the entrance of the Omaha bank to meet the messenger and there handed him the message for Des Moines. The telegraph company had no reason to believe otherwise than that the bank had actually signed the message, and it transmitted it. The Des Moines bank also accepted the telegram as genuine because it bore every mark of genuineness, and it paid out the money to the swindlers, who turned their fraud so that they got out of reach of the law on trains that left immediately after their game had been worked.

In two smaller western towns a similar game was worked, only for seven or eight times the amount. An alleged horse buyer appeared in one of the towns and made purchase of a carload of fine animals to be delivered and paid for at a later day, preceding which he made the acquaintance of the officers of one of the banks. On the day fixed for the delivery of the horses the alleged buyer deposited in the bank a draft for a large amount drawn on a bank in another town a hundred miles away. At the same time the bank received a telegram purporting to come from the distant bank authorizing the payment of this draft. The bank believed the telegram, paid out the money and then discovered that the telegram was fraudulent. It had not been sent by the second bank, but by a confederate of the alleged horse buyer. Later developments disclosed that this accomplice had called up the telegraph office in the distant town by telephone. "This is —, cashier of the — bank," he said. "Please send this telegram for me." Then he gave the message authorizing the first bank to pay the bogus draft, and this message the telegraph company sent without suspecting that it was fraudulent.

Some years ago an eastern man was induced to invest in worthless mining stock on the basis of a fraudulent telegram purporting to come from an expert he had sent out to investigate the mining property, but which was in reality sent in a manner similar to the above by a confederate. This eastern man's faith in telegrams cost him something more than $10,000.

The story of a fraud with an amusing side comes from across the water, with a London man of rather convivial habits as the victim. This man was forgetful and used to leave at home his office and safe keys. He also had a practice of leaving the city surreptitiously for a day now and then for a convivial time with friends, all unknown to his wife. One day this business man went on one of his periodical jaunts, and a rogue who knew his habits ventured to send this telegram to his wife: "Please send my love."

Love, Freddy." In due course of time the keys were delivered at the office door, and the rogue was there to receive them. He ransacked the whole office at his leisure, safe and all. Late that night the business man came home and was teased by his wife for his forgetfulness. This was news to him, but he kept his counsel. The next morning he discovered that his office had been robbed.—B. K. Mann in Pittsburg Dispatch.

Coleridge's Imagination.

From his early youth Coleridge lived in a world of books and dreams, yet his favorite walk seems to have been the Strand, the last place in the world for a poet to lose himself in reverie. As he strolled down the street he imagined himself swimming the Hellespont, the feat of which other poets had written and which the poet Byron was to accomplish later. Once while the mind of Coleridge was thus far from the busy Strand he absently thrust his hands before him in the manner of one swimming. Suddenly one hand came in contact with a gentleman's pocket.

The gentleman, thinking to capture a thief, seized the hand and exclaimed: "What! So young and so wicked!" He accused the poor, poetic boy of an attempt at pocket picking.

With some fright and a few tears the boy explained, and we can imagine that words did not fail him who was to become the most brilliant talker of his age. The gentleman was delighted with Coleridge's imagination, which could turn the Strand into the Hellespont. The intelligence of the young Leander made the stranger inquire into Coleridge's tastes, and when he found the boy liked books he opened for him a subscription at the circulating library in Chesham.—Westminster Gazette.

The Facetious Traveler.

"How did you like Pittsburg?"
"It suits me."
"Do you think Boston is a great city?"
"It has been."
"Did you find Philadelphia the place of sleep they say it is?"
"Not for me. Everybody else snored so loud I couldn't."
"Is Washington a good place to live in?"
"Capital."
"How did you find Chicago?"
"Didn't have to. It was there when I arrived."
"How were the mountains back of Denver?"
"Rocky."
"How did they treat you in New Orleans?"
"All the time."
"Well, I'm glad to see you're back."
"How does it look?"
"How does what look?"
"My back. I've never seen it."
It was then that the assault took place, but the court on hearing the evidence decided that it was justifiable.—Judge.

THE ATLANTIC LINERS

Signs, Signals and Flags Used by the Various Companies.

COLORS OF THE BIG FUNNELS

In Some Cases They Are Very Much Alike, but the Night Lights Used by the Vessels of the Different Lines Are Quite Distinctive.

It is said that but comparatively few of the many thousands of persons that each year patronize the various lines of steamships crossing the Atlantic are familiar with the various distinguishing signs and signals employed by the vessels of the respective companies. Yet it is a very easy thing to tell at a glance to what line any given ship belongs—the American line, for instance.

About all that one must remember in the case of the vessels of our own line is that the funnels are black, each with its white band. When you see an Atlantic liner at night with a blue light forward, a red light amidships and a blue light aft you know at once that she is of the American line.

All Cunarders show a red funnel with black rings and a black top, while the night signals consist of a blue light and two roman candles, each throwing out six blue balls.

There are but two of the leading transatlantic lines the ships of which carry cream colored funnels—the North German Lloyd and the Holland-America lines. The first employs a perfectly plain funnel without any other color than cream, and the latter shows a cream funnel with a white band and green borders. Signals displayed at night by these lines are, in the case of the North German Lloyd, two blue red lights, one forward and one aft, and, in the case of the Holland-America line, a green light forward and aft, with a white light under the bridge.

Two lines use buff funnels, the White Star and the Hamburg-American, the difference between the two being that, while the former shows a black top, the latter is plain buff throughout. White Star night signals are two green lights flashed simultaneously.

Quite a number of lines carry black funnels—the American with a white band, as mentioned above; the Anchor, which is entirely black; the Bristol, with a variegated and fancy touch, the black smokestack being relieved by a white band in the center and a blue star in the middle of the white band. In the regular service of the Hamburg-American line, as distinguished from the express service, we find that the color is plain black, while the Red Star is black with a white band and a black top.

The Scandinavian-American and the Wilson lines have red and black funnels, black in the first case with a red top and red funnel with a black top in the second.

The red funnel of the French line has a black top similar to the funnels of other lines, but with different proportions of color. On this line the night signals are a blue light forward, a white light amidships and a red light aft, forming the French tricolor.

At night the Anchor line of vessels shows a white light, then a red. The Bristol displays a green light only. The Hamburg-American ships for both services, regular and express, show two red-white-blue lights in quick succession at the stern. The Red Star displays three red lights, one forward, one aft and one amidships, all flashed together. The Scandinavian line employs one white-red, followed by one red-white light, and the Wilson puts out two red lights about sixty feet apart.

It will be observed from the foregoing that the light signals of all the different lines vary, while the funnels in some cases are very similar. This, however, does not lead to confusion, for in determining the line to which a vessel belongs one must also take into consideration the flag or pennant she flies. Every line, of course, carries a different "house flag," as it is called.

The flag of the Cunard line is red with a golden lion in the center, while that of the White Star vessels is of the same color, but swallowtail in shape and containing a white star. The house flag of the Red Star line is exactly the same as that of the White Star company with the colors reversed—flag white, star red.

The flag of the Hamburg-American line is an elaborate affair—white and blue diagonally quartered with a black anchor and a yellow shield in the center. The North German Lloyd flag is a handsome one, showing a design of a key and an anchor crossed in the center of a laurel wreath in blue on a white field.

The Atlantic Transport line flies a pretty flag of red, white and blue horizontal bars, with stars.—Edwin Torrance in Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Man's chief wisdom consists in knowing his follies.—Rochefoucauld.

THE TEASEL.

A Queer Plant With Water Traps For Its Insect Victims.

Among common plants there are few more remarkable than the teasel. There is little doubt, says a well informed natural history contributor to the London Chronicle, that the teasel is as much a flesh eating organism as any spider that ever spun a web.

Moreover, its method of securing its victims, though quite as ingenious as that of the spider, is much more comprehensive as well as more efficacious. Not only does this extraordinary plant capture all species of flies and gnats, great or small, but caterpillars, slugs, wood lice and the like are all frequent victims.

How this is brought about forms one of the most wonderful incidents in nature's fascinating story of the year. The spider weaves her net of the finest silk; the teasel makes her snare out of dewdrops. The plant grows up straight as a church spire, throwing out its leaves in pairs at intervals up the juicy green stem. The twin leaves unite at their base to form a deep cup, and the leaves are so contrived that the moisture precipitated on them runs down into this reservoir.

A well developed plant will thus catch and hold in four or five of these water traps a full half pint of liquid, and the heat of the sun appears to evaporate so little of it that the cups will be brimming even at the close of a hot June day. The smooth, steep leaves all lead down into these pits, and their gradient gets sharper as the water is approached.

Thus the teasel's victims are made to "walk the plank" to their death, and once in the water there is no hope of return. They soon drown, and every teasel well has at its bottom a layer of slime formed by their disintegrated bodies.

It is of course difficult to prove that this deposit is absorbed by the plant as nutriment, but careful dissection will show at the base of each cup a ring of apertures—sink holes, in fact—which lead into the substance of the stem and the presence of which affords little room for doubt on the matter.

Visiting With Johnny.

"I think the mother of a six-year-old boy should have a pension to make up to her for the mental agony she suffers," said just such a mother. "I took Johnny to his paternal grandfather's last week and believe he has cut us out of grandfather's will. Of course we send him to Sunday school, and we both attend church, but we do not ask a blessing at the table, nor do we have family prayers. Grandfather does, and it happened that the morning after we arrived Johnny was excused from the table and went out in the yard to play. Grandfather led the way into the sitting room, and we all knelt down in prayer. Imagine my horror to see Johnny's little face peering curiously through the blinds and hear him sing out: 'Hey, in there! What kind of a game is that you're playing? Ain't you the rotten bunch not to let me in on it?' I arose and softly whispered to him to run on and play, and he sang out: 'You're it, mamma; you're it! Make a home run.' Now, what can you do with a small boy, anyway? I can never explain matters to his grandfather."—New York Times.

The Captain's Regret.

"Some years ago," said a military man, "there was a certain German private soldier named Andree. This was a short time after Aeronaut Andree's sensational departure for the north pole in his airship. Well, the kaiser, reviewing some troops one day, asked a number of men their names, and Andree was among this number. The kaiser smiled at him good humorously.

"So your name is Andree, eh?" the kaiser said. "Do you know you've got a very famous namesake?"

"Yes, your majesty," the soldier answered.

"And who told you that?" said the kaiser.

"My captain, your majesty," said the soldier.

"Aha, your captain, eh? And what did your captain tell you about Andree?"

"He said, your majesty, that he only wished Andree had taken me with him!"

The Chestnut Horse.

There is an ancient tale of a band of Arabs being pursued by their enemies which sums up their theory about a horse's color. Among the fleeing band was a man with unusually keen eyesight, and from time to time he would describe to his leader the horses ridden by the enemy.

"What manner of horses do they ride?"

"Black horses."

"Then there is no need of haste."

At the noon halt the leader again asked, "What manner of horses do they ride now?"

"Bay horses."

"Then we must ride harder."

A few hours later the leader asked, "Are they bays again?"

"They ride chestnuts."

"Then we ride for our lives."

GAINESVILLE,
—THE—
University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops, in the heart of the truck-growing phosphate and naval stores belt. It has the best educational advantage in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance.

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the ninety degrees in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 3

How to Write Retail Advertising Copy

By Herbert Kaufman.

A skilled layer of mosaics works with small fragments of stone—they fit into more places than the larger chunks.

The skilled advertiser works with small words—they fit into more minds than big phrases.

The simpler the language the greater certainty that it will be understood by the least intelligent reader.

The construction engineer plans his road-bed where there is a minimum of grade—he works along the lines of least resistance.

The advertisement which runs into mountainous style is badly surveyed—all minds are not built for high level thinking.

Advertising must be simple. When it is tricked out with the jewelry and silks of literary expression it looks as much out of place as a ball dress at the breakfast table.

The buying public is only interested in facts. People read advertisements to find out what you have to sell.

The advertiser who can fire the most facts in the shortest time gets the most returns. Blank cartridges make noise but they do not hit—blank talk, however clever, is only wasted space.

You force your salesmen to keep to solid facts—you don't allow them to sell muslin with quotations from Omar or trousers with excerpts from Marie Corelli. You must not tolerate in your printed selling talk anything that you are not willing to countenance in personal salesmanship.

Cut out clever phrases if they are inserted to the sacrifice of clear explanations—write copy as you talk. Only be more brief. Publicity is costlier than conversation—ranging in price downward from $6.00 a line, talk is not cheap but the most expensive commodity in the world.

Sketch in your ad to the stenographer. Then you will be so busy "saying it" that you will not have time to bother about the gewgaws of writing. Afterwards take the type-written manuscript and cut out every word and every line that can be erased without omitting an important detail. What remains in the end is all that really counted in the beginning.

Cultivate brevity and simplicity. "Savon Francais" may look smarter, but more people will understand "French Soap." Sir Isaac Newton's explanation of gravitation covers six pages, but the schoolboy's terse and homely "What goes up must come down" clinches the whole thing in six words.

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocket-book—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.

Among the prominent visitors to this city yesterday was W. B. Lukens of the town which bears his name in Levy county. Mr. Lukens is an extensive lumber and shingle manufacturer, and operates mills at Lukens, and at Paradise in this county, cutting cypress exclusively. Claude Stokes, near the Devil's Millbopper, Wednesday, and reports a delightful time. Mr. Stokes is now busily engaged grinding cane, and his place is the center of attraction for friends and neighbors. He will make about fourteen barrels of fine syrup this year, but would have produced more had it not been for the recent drought, which sweetened his cane but prevented further growth.
